Dawes, General Pershing's Former Supply Procurement Chief in France-Intimates Graft Was Screened Behind the Glorious Deeds of Our Boys Across the Seas.

Washington Feb. 16.—An indirect attack on Charles G. Dawes, General Persising's former supply procurement chief in France was made in the house today by Chairman Grabam, of the general war investigating committee in the course of a 3,600 word speech on war-time waste.

"The captious heckling of our democratic brethen about the payment of certain bills is for the same purpose. I charge that behind that screen there are investigating committees were of a 3,600 word speech on war-time waste.

"When the guns of a hostile floot are reaching out for their targets," said Mr. Graham. "It is good strategy to throw overboard some smoke boxes and behind the smoke screen thus created, flee to safety. Thus it has been lately. The carefully staged performance recently brought to our attention, where one high in the councils of this administration struts and swears and gwears and trust and throws about the miscrable grafter and incompetent official the sheltering mantle of the glorious deeds of our boys across the seas, it is to his send.

Dawes that investigating committees were were dealing with water already over the dam, Mr. Graham declared the war that occurred during the war.

"I can overlook much that happened during the busile and rush of war," he added. "We ought to overlook much thief or grafter who piles his trade when the war is over, nor have I any more sympathy in my heart for the public official who will permit him to do it without any attempt to stay his hand.

the speech by Senator Moses against the emergency bill was filled with a series of caustic shots at his republican colleagues. He declared that every senator knew that the bill, if it should be along the speech of flesh as needs be. ator knew that the bill, if it should become a law, would avail nothing and he challenged denial by any senator that it was "unscientific and designed to fool the farmer rather than aid him." The New Hampshire senator also assailed supporters of the bill for having offered no defense for its provisions, and declared that only two speches had been made in favor of the bill in the fifty-six days it has been in the senate's possession. "Nobody can defend it, for it is, indentification of the law of the senate's possession."
